

Fiber Optic Patch Cord Manufacturing Equipment

AI Overview

Fiber optic patch cord production requires a coordinated set of specialized machines, including cable cutting, crimping, epoxy curing, polishing, and testing equipment.

Core Production Equipment

Cable Preparation Machines

Automatic Cable Cutting Machines: Precisely cut fiber optic cables to required lengths and wind them for assembly, supporting various cable diameters and armored cables.

Jacket Strippers: Remove the outer jacket cleanly to expose the fiber without damage.

Assembly & Crimping Tools

High-Pressure Crimping Machines: Secure Kevlar strength members to connector bodies, ensuring tensile strength and durability.

Fiber Threading and Stripping Machines: Automate fiber insertion and stripping for high-volume production.

Epoxy Injection & Curing

Automated Epoxy Injection Systems: Precisely inject adhesive into ferrules.

Curing Ovens: Solidify the epoxy bond; available in capacities from 24-port to 100-port for batch processing.

Polishing Equipment

Four-Corner Pressurized Polish Machines: Ensure uniform pressure across the fiber end-face for high-quality UPC or APC finishes, preferred over central pressurized machines for factory production.

Polishing Jigs: Include finished, semi-finished, and hand-polishing discs to accommodate different connector types (SC, LC, FC, ST) and core counts (12–36 cores).

Testing & Inspection Tools

IL/RL Testers: Measure insertion loss and return loss to ensure compliance with Telcordia GR-326-CORE standards.

End-Face Detectors (400X): Inspect fiber end-face geometry and surface quality.

3D Interferometry and Fiber Test Equipment: Optional for high-precision quality control.

Auxiliary Equipment

Fiber Heat Ovens: For curing and thermal processing.

Fiber Blowing/Jetting Machines: Facilitate fiber insertion into tubes or protective sheaths.

Patch Cord Assembly Tools: Include manual or semi-au...
