

Turkey sells fiber optic cables at low prices

AI Overview

Turkey can access a range of cost-effective fiber optic cables through domestic manufacturers and strategic supplier selection, balancing price, quality, and technical specifications. Key Domestic Manufacturers Turkey hosts several reputable fiber optic cable manufacturers capable of supplying high-quality products at competitive prices. Notable companies include: Turkuaz Kablo: Over 20 years of experience, offering telecom cables and fiber optic accessories with a focus on quality and reliability. Upcom Telekomunikasyon: Provides a wide range of fiber optic and copper connectivity solutions, emphasizing cost-effectiveness and compliance with national and international standards. ETK Kablo: Established in 1979, a leading exporter serving over 120 countries, with ISO certifications and advanced manufacturing capabilities. SAMM Teknoloji: Specializes in fiber optic cable manufacturing and data center solutions, leveraging strategic location and innovation for competitive pricing. Nexans Turkey: Offers advanced fiber optic cables and integrated system solutions, combining local production with global expertise. Pricing Considerations Fiber optic cable prices in Turkey vary based on type, construction, and application: Standard single-mode LC-LC patch cords (1-3 meters): USD 1.50-2.50 per unit at distributor level, with volume discounts reducing prices to USD 1.00-1.50 for orders above 10,000 units. Multimode OM4 patch cords: USD 2.00-3.50 per unit. MPO/MTP trunk cables (12-fiber, 10 meters): USD 25-45 per unit. Custom or military-grade assemblies: USD 10-200 per unit depending on specifications and testing requirements. Cost drivers include optical fiber (40-50%), connectors and ferrules (20-30%), cable jacketing (10-15%), and labor/overhead (20-30% for standard products, up to 50% for custom assemblies).
